

Actual Size of Bobblehead!

Bicentennial Celebration of Charles Darwin's Birthday 1809 - 2009

In conjunction with the Year of Science celebration, Darwin's birthday and the publication of Origin of species, the UH Library is accepting pre-sales orders of the commemorative Charles Darwin Bobblehead. The bobbleheads are a fundraiser to support Library Enrichment events. These "little Darwins" come complete with Darwin's birth and death dates inscribed on the base (you'll never forget Darwin Day again!). They weigh about 550g (1 lb, 3 ounces for those who cannot abide the metric system), and they stand approximately 19 cm (a.k.a., 7.5 inches) tall. They are made of polyresin.

Every Darwin fan and every biology lab needs one of these -- what better way to assure the success of your experiments (and thought processes) than to have Charles Darwin overseeing everything?

$25/bobblehead

Purchase your Charles Darwin Bobblehead in advance at the Hamilton Library Circulation Business Window. Please complete the order form so that we know how to contact you when the bobbleheads arrive!